

MIKE ALSFORD | PHOTOGRAPHER

Mike Alford is an editorial and publicity photographer who largely specialises in performance related subjects. A major part of Mike's work has involved shooting picture publicity and stills for television and film (mainly drama), with clients including all ITV companies, the BBC, Channel 4, Five, Sky and various prominent independent producers. He has worked on many notable productions including : Prime Suspect, Urban Gothic, The Safe House, Coronation Street, Peak Practice, Poldark, Wycliffe, Robin of Sherwood, Poirot and The Ghost Hunter.

His early days included some years with the Devon News Service, shooting hard news and features for the press, both national and major regionals. He is well published in all national newspapers and many leading magazine titles. This has always left him aware of the value of a journalistic thread running through all kinds of other photo subjects.

Mike's career included a role as front of house photographer for the Exeter Northcott Theatre.

He also offers a service creating Portfolios and Portrait pictures for: Actors, Models, Musicians and anyone involved in the Performing or Visual Arts.

In the last few years, Mike's photography career has driven him towards the motor trade. This has resulted in a large UK dealership, Vertu Motors, becoming an important client.

He is based in Devon and is happy to cover assignments throughout the West Country, South Wales and beyond.
